RAILWAY POLICY.

We believe all who look at the matter apart from party prejudice will agree with us in thinking the Government have done right in keeping faith with the C. P. R. and maintaining the status quo as to disallowance. The question, first brought up by Winnipeg for local reasons which need not be here analyzed, became for a time a lively topic of discussion throughout the country, and has been settled by a vote sustaining the Government policy by a very substantial majority. The fact that so few of the representatives from Manitoba, British Columbia and the Northwest Territories voted in the minority is suggestive enough of the state of public feeling outside the city of Winnipeg in the great western division of the Dominion on this question. It is to be hoped, however, that the city and the C. P. R. will amicably arrange their differences, and that the latter will not feel it to be necessary or advisable to adopt any measures that would bear the stamp of retaliation.

We have all along felt that the interest of our town and district in this question was somewhat remote, and we observed that during the late election contest in the Saskatchewan district, it was scarcely if ever mooted. What concerns us much more to know is, when are we likely to have railway communication ourselves? There are two lines partially constructed pointing in our direction, and we should be rejoiced to hear that either one or other of these was progressing towards our settlement—or indeed for that matter, that both were coming on apace. Although both these lines were to touch here, they run through districts so very widely separated that each would have a large territory tributary to it entirely distinct from the other. There can be no doubt that were railway facilities available, we would immediately have a large influx of settlers, and as no other district in the Territories can at all compete with Saskatchewan as a farming country, we should at once enter on an era of great and lasting prosperity.

It cannot be lost sight of, however, that the chief outlet for the surplus produce of this country must ultimately be by the Hudson's Bay route, and Prince Albert should lose no opportunity of furthering proper measures for the opening up of that route in the near future.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES.

The outlook for our important agricultural interest is, at the present date, much more favorable than it has been for several years in succession. A sufficiently early seed time, with the land in good condition to begin with and a continuance of genial weather, have given an excellent start to the grain crops, and cheering accounts reach us from all over the district. Grass is abundant, and live stock consequently getting into fine condition, while there is no likelihood of any shortcoming in the hay crop. Roots and vegetables also promise well, though we fear the grub will have to be reckoned with. Many recipes and nostrums for the destruction of this pest have been proposed and tried with no great success. A simple and effective mode of dealing with it is still a desideratum, and anyone who can discover such will deserve well of his country.

About this season we often hear complaints of scrub bulls being allowed to run at large, which of course is very annoying to those having a good class of stock. To obviate the grievance, the Northwest Council passed an Ordinance last session (No. 16 of 1886, amending No. 13 of 1881). This Ordinance comes into force in such portions of the Territories as are designated and fixed by proclamation by the Lieut.-Governor. Probably the Lorne Agricultural Society might do well to keep this in view when they fix upon the boundaries of the district to be included in their proposed incorporation.

There has been some talk recently among those interested as to the repayment of the seed grain supplied last year by the Government. Of course a bargain is a bargain, but there seems to be a general impression that, in the circumstances, the terms of repayment are somewhat onerous. Had last season been a favorable one there would have been no trouble, but a year of comparative failure followed upon years of positive failure, and instead of making things better by the aid of Government seed, the end was almost worse than the beginning. We have no doubt if a proper representation be made in the proper quarter a measure of relief will certainly be obtained.

It is stated that the Colonial Conference has been successful, as regards Australia at any rate, in one of its main purposes—a provision for Colonial Defence. A plan has been adopted for the maritime defence of Australia. The British Government, without reducing its own squadron in the South Pacific, will provide five armed cruisers, at an original cost of $3,000,000, and two torpedo boats, and will not charge for their deterioration. Austria, on the other hand, will pay $6,000,000 a year for the pay, keep and other expenses of the necessary crews and equipments. The cruisers will be retained in Australian waters, and will, it is believed, with the usual force stationed there, provide adequate protection to Australian trade. This is the beginning of a quite practicable plan of binding the Mother Country and her colonies in alliance, in which Canada might advantageously join.

IN MEMORIAM.

THE LATE REV. MOTHER AUSTIN.

Mary Ann Austin, eldest daughter of James Austin, Esq., of Pontefract, Yorkshire, Eng., was born on March 9, 1841. At the early age of seventeen she was received into the Order of the Faithful Companions of Jesus, at their convent in Cheshire. Here during the first years of her religious life, which are generally given to careful training in religious duties and serious application to different branches of study, she showed all that energy of character and industry which marked her after career, and succeeded in obtaining a first class Government certificate from the Board of Education, London. After her religious profession in 1860 she was employed in some of the largest schools in England. These schools—numbering during the day four or five hundred children, and filled again in the evenings with as many adults from the surrounding factories and mills, are again thrown open on Sundays for both day and night scholars. Only those who have experienced it can understand the exhausting nature of the work which the management and teaching of these schools demand. Yet it was in this laborious task that with an energy and zeal, mingled with exquisite amiability, prudence and gentleness, which endeared her to her superiors, her sisters in religion and those under her care, that Mother Austin spent the twenty-four years previous to her arrival in Prince Albert. In 1863 Mother Austin was chosen by the Superior General as assistant to the Superior who was deputed to open the first foundation of the Order in the North West Territories. The severity of the first winter tried her constitution very much, but notwithstanding her failing strength she continued to labor at the education of the children confided to her care with her usual cheerful devotedness, and followed up their interests with loving vigilance even to her last sigh. Death, when it came, found her as she was known all through her life, forgetful of self and full of kind forethought for others. Amidst the great sufferings of her last illness, she spoke affectionately of and prayed for the many friends and benefactors in Prince Albert, whose interests she promised to be mindful of before God's throne in heaven.

CARD OF THANKS.

The results of the bazaar are beyond all expectations. There is a clear profit of $360. We beg to offer our sincere thanks to the generous benefactors who have contributed thereto.

In the Acts of the Apostles we read that the first Christians had but one heart and one soul, and held all their goods in common.

In seeing during these two evenings the kindness and generosity shown by the inhabitants of Prince Albert, we feel happy to remark that the same union and the same charity exist among us.

May the Almighty vouchsafe Himself to reward them.

Special thanks are due to the Hon. L. Clarke who has patronized the undertaking to such an extent.

Thanks also to all the charitable friends who have organized the bazaar and worked with their own hands to make the various objects.

Thanks, again, to the members of the P. A. Band who contributed so largely to the gaiety of these two evenings.

Lastly, thanks to all those who kindly honoured us with their presence.

P. DOMMEAU.

Seed potatoes on Government account have begun to arrive.

The mail arrived on Sunday morning. Insp. Wilson and William Peterson were passengers.

Wheeler and Bourke have 120 acres of grain in, besides a good acre of roots. Mr. Gannon, of the upper settlement, has 100 acres sown. Some others have not sown all the ground they have ready, but taking it altogether there will be nearly the usual amount of land put under crop and up to the present time the prospect of success is good.

A farewell social was given to the Rev. Mr. Gardiner in the Presbyterian church on the 12th ult. After music and singing by the choir, Mr. B. A. Lawson presented Mr. Gardiner with an address and Miss Latimer handed him an envelope containing fifty dollars. Mr. Gardiner replied, thanking the congregation for their valuable present, but said it was not necessary to give him anything to keep him in remembrance of the church, as it was his first love, it being the first church he had charge of after leaving college. The following evening, at a large meeting held in one of the rooms at the barracks, Mr. Gardiner was presented with an illuminated address and a magnificent gold watch. The address was read by Corp. Hetherington and the presentation made by Sergt. Major Headon, who both referred to feeling terms to the general regret of Mr. Gardiner's departure from Battleford. On receiving this valuable token of good will and esteem, Mr. Gardiner acknowledged it in eloquent and fitting terms.

A large number of trees have been planted this spring, both in the town and country. No one seems to have waited for Arbor Day.

The arrival on Saturday of some thirty gallons of permit whiskey has made the hearts of a number of people rejoice with exceeding great joy.

QU'APPELLE.

From the Progress.

The immigrant boom has struck this town. The building is occupied and Mr. Baker is kept busy.

Mr. A. A. Baker, our esteemed immigrant agent, reports the arrival of 31 emigrants during the past week, and to include those that arrived some days previously, 43 in all up to the present who have stopped at this point. This is a good showing so early in the season. A number of new arrivals had considerable means. Nearly all have located in this vicinity. It is thought that the immigrant boom has just commenced at this point and that many more will arrive during the summer.

The proprietor of the Progress has purchased two lots on the corner of Qu'Appelle street and Ninth Avenue, where preparations are being made for the erection of a commodious printing office and store.

According to the Ottawa Journal, there is a wide-spread movement among prominent Conservatives in the city and to Parliament to secure the honor for Mr. Macdonald of succeeding Mr. Headley as Lieutenant Governor of the N.W.T.

LODGE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

A meeting of the Directors of the Lodge Agricultural Society was held at the Queen's on Tuesday last. The attendance was good. The minutes of previous meeting were read and adopted.

The Secretary read a communication from the Jubilee Celebration Committee, inviting the members of the Society to walk in the first of July procession? The meeting unanimously agreed to accept the kind invitation.

The Secretary suggested that it would be in the interest of the Society to deduct one dollar from each prize winner for the next year's membership fee.

This suggestion caused considerable discussion, and on motion of Mr. Sifton was almost unanimously carried.

The disposal of the valuable silver cup presented by the Hon. L. Carke on behalf of the Hudson Bay Co. next came up for discussion, when it was agreed that it should be awarded for the best two bushels of wheat, oats and barley. The cup must be won twice by the same competitor to entitle winner to permanent ownership.

The mode of competing for the Merchants' Challenge Stock Cup was also changed. Last year it was for the best bull (any age) and the best two cows and two calves. This year it will be for one bull and two cows, with their calves.

The following committees were then appointed:

Building—President Plaxton, Mayor MacArthur, J. F. Betts, T. J. Agnew, F. Orr and W. C. McKay.

Grounds—Vice-Presidents Craig and Adams, J. M. Keen, H. L. Lundy, A. L. Sifton, J. C. Slater and W. Miller, sr.

Prize List Committee—Officers of the Society, with A. L. Sifton, J. C. Slater and Wm. Miller, sr.

Committee to select judges—Messrs. J. Thomson, W. Miller, sr., W. Miller, jr., C. Adams and R. Giles.

Canvassing Committee—J. M. Campbell, Mayor MacArthur and Conn. Agnew.

The date of the Fall Exhibition was fixed for September 29th.

It was decided to charge an admission fee of twenty-five cents to the exhibition.

A short report from the Seed Grain Committee was read, stating that they had been consulted about seed grain, and that they had some samples grown in the district submitted and had recommended one, and they regretted very much to say that no grain raised in the district was purchased, thereby giving farmers a ready market. They also regret to say that a number of farmers were refused oats and barley, while they are given to understand there is a quantity of oats and barley left over on the Government's hands at the warehouse.

The Canvassing Committee or the Secretary will be pleased to hear from friends of the Society who wish to offer special prizes at the fall exhibition.

NEWSPAPERS IN 1887.

Geo. P. Rowell & Co., of New York, have issued the nineteenth annual edition of their standard publication, the "American Newspaper Directory." The new volume contains an exhaustive list of all Class Publications so admirably arranged that any one of the 2,000 papers represented there can be readily referred to and all important facts concerning it, together with its circulation rating easily obtained. The Newspaper Directory will be used principally by publishers, advertisers and advertising agents, but the vast fund of information it contains makes it valuable to persons of almost every trade and profession. As a Gazetteer alone it is well worth the price charged, $5, for it fully describes every town in which a newspaper is issued, and few people care to know about any place where one is not. The number of papers published in the United States, Territories (including Alaska) and Canada is put at 15,420; an increase of 581 in one year. The growth of newspapers in some of the Western States would be a matter of wonder, if it were not that this year is an exception to the rule. The whole volume shows that great care has been taken to sustain its reputation as the most comprehensive work of the kind yet published, and to insure accuracy in every detail. Anything less than a complete compendium of American newspapers and periodicals would surprise those who are familiar with the former efforts of this firm, who are so well known as the oldest, largest and best known of all the American Advertising Agencies.

TELEGRAPHIC.

WINNIPEG, July 3.

In the House to-day Mr. Perley introduced several petitions for changes in the Land Laws and Territories system in the Northwest.

Mr. Daly presented the petition of Sifton municipality, asking for legislation to collect current and overdue taxes on lands owned by the Northwest Land Company.

Sir Donald Smith asked leave to introduce a Bill to extend the Manitoba and South-western railway.

In reply to a question, Sir John Macdonald said the Lieut. Governor of Quebec had resigned, but his resignation has not yet been accepted.

Sir Charles Tupper said that both the Imperial and Canadian Governments were promoting a friendly adjustment of the fisheries difficulties and reciprocity trade relations with the United States.

Central Spain is suffering from a terrible locust plague. Vegetation has entirely disappeared, and workmen have to be employed in clearing railway tracks before a train can proceed.

There having been no session of the Chambers of Deputies in Paris, the new members hostile to them, freely since yesterday, and could confidently predict for themselves a term of office for twenty-four hours longer. They are not to lie on a bed of roses during the next three days, however, and it would surprise nobody to see Rouvier place his resignation in the hands of President Grevy before Saturday.

From Regina we learn that Manahkott has just been arrested for the murder of Peter Smith.

A farmer living south of White Wood was found strung up to a tree, having been murdered by horse thieves.

Another farmer named McLean, living near the reserve north-west of Broadview, has been murdered by half-breeds and his stock run off.

No tidings yet of McLeish's murderers. McLeish's funeral took place yesterday. The funeral procession was about a half mile long, preceded by a band playing the dead march in Sault.

THE R. C. BAZAAR.

The bazaar held in St. Ann's church Wednesday and Thursday evenings in aid of the church funds was a great success. On both evenings the building was well filled, and the people of Prince Albert—always liberal, especially so when the object is for a charitable purpose—spent their money freely. The inside of the building was handsomely decorated, and presented quite a gay appearance. The articles for sale and put up for raffle were numerous and valuable, but for want of space we cannot particularize them. During the second evening those who attended the bazaar were treated to some excellent singing and music. Mrs. Davison and Miss. Begin sang the pretty duet "Aimez-vous," with piano accompaniment by Mr. Peters, which was rendered in such a manner that it fairly brought down the audience, after which Messrs. Cann and Peterson played several duets in their usual brilliant style, which were fully appreciated. Then Mr. MacIsle favored the company with a good but short song. Mr. Parker next sang a favorite song, "When he smokes tobacco," in which the band boys joined in the chorus. Next came a piano duet by Messrs. Peters and Cann—the best of the evening. About nine o'clock the Hon. L. Clarke made a few choice remarks on behalf of Rev. Pere Dommeau, thanking the public in general for their encouragement towards a charitable organization, and Mrs. Davison in particular for her great devotion to that bazaar, which she had superintended with the greatest success. After some further remarks, in which he mentioned the good accord that existed between the Protestants and Catholics of this place, he gave a few words of encouragement to Rev. Pere Dommeau, and concluded by thanking the members of the band for their kind services on that occasion, and thanked the committee for the collection he himself had made among the spectators. The remainder of the evening was spent in raffish, music and songs. One by one, "Deux gens d'armes," by Mr. G. Gervais, took well, most of the Frenchmen present joining in the chorus and whooping her up in great shape.
